Dear Chairmen Blunt and Cole and Ranking Members Murray and DeLauro:

The undersigned organizations write in full support of the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) at the U.S. Department of Labor.

SCSEP successfully helps older Americans return to the workforce through paid, on-the-job training assignments at local organizations or public agencies. Local organizations benefit from the experience, expertise, and skills of older workers who train through SCSEP. In addition, our communities are strengthened by the training service hours performed and the paychecks earned by local SCSEP participants.

SCSEP also provides community employers with work-ready candidates to consider and hire for open job positions. The relevant skills and new work history SCSEP participants gain through their SCSEP training well positions them to compete for and secure jobs in their community. The program represents a win-win-win for older workers, employers, and communities.

Thank you for the opportunity to share our strong support for SCSEP and its specialized job training for older workers.

Sincerely,
